

three-legged perch stools

SHEN20-10

The Perch stool utilizes windsor technology and construction that makes sitting upright easier and encourages proper alignment of the vertebrae. The stool achieves this by keeping the pelvis rolled forward allowing for the natural spring S curve of the back maintained.

-
- | | |
|----------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Features | <ul style="list-style-type: none">· Sculpted saddle seat· Windsor chair construction· Streamlined turned legs and spindles |
|----------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

Materials	Oak with Black over Red Milk Paint, Oil Finish, Cherry, Black Walnut
-----------	----------------------------------------------------------------------

Origin	Stephen Shenefiel (Maker)
--------	---------------------------

Dimensions	H 25" & H 18"
------------	---------------

Price	Call to Request
-------	-----------------